

JOIN THE SPONSORSHIP REVIEW COMMITTEE!

Metro Parks and Nature: Sponsorships for community-led activities

Metro is recruiting people to serve on the review committee for the Parks and Nature Community Partnerships (formerly Partners in Nature) community-led activities sponsorships program. Members of the committee will recommend the allocation of up to $50,000 in total funding for applications ranging from $500 to $3,500 to organizations and groups led by and for people of color<sup>1</sup> seeking to build community capacity and connect people of color with nature.

These funds support community-led events and activities held at Metro parks and natural areas. This is a new approach for existing funds intended to provide financial support and limited staff support, if requested, for community activities. Potential activities may include: a community picnic, a walking tour, a nature-based art program or others.

It's important to have a broad diversity of experience and backgrounds represented on the review committee. People seeking sponsorships are eligible to serve on the review committee. All reviewers must disclose any financial conflicts of interest to submitted requests. The committee will review the requests and make a funding recommendation. The Metro Parks and Nature department director will make all final funding decisions.

This is the first round of Parks and Nature Community Partnerships sponsorships for community-led activities to be awarded through the 2016 renewal of Metro's Parks and Natural Areas levy. During this pilot year, there will be two annual review cycles. The spring review cycle will have $50,000 total available.

- Collaborating with community groups representing communities of color
