COMMUNITY PLACEMAKING GRANT GUIDELINES

The Community Placemaking program helps people tackle community challenges or opportunities by funding creative, arts-based, equity-focused projects. Grants ranging from $5,000 to $25,000 support projects that foster connection to place, strengthen social fabric and involve and benefit communities of color and other historically marginalized communities. Metro's investments help local communities create or sustain the vibrant places envisioned in the Region's 2040 Growth Concept.

IMPORTANT DATES

November 22	Applications open
February 3, noon	Applications due
Late April	Awards announced
After July 1	Grant-funded activities may begin
Early fall 2021	Projects should be complete

WHO CAN APPLY

Community Placemaking grants support community-driven initiatives, and partnerships are key to a competitive proposal. Given that, anyone meeting the following conditions can apply:

- Community-based organizations with nonprofit status.
- Community groups or individuals without nonprofit status must partner with a fiscal sponsor, such as a state certified, federally approved 501(c) nonprofit or a public agency. That fiscal sponsor must have a federal employer tax ID number and capacity to contract with Metro. Learn more about a fiscal sponsor's role beginning on page 6.
- Public agencies must have community partners involved in the implementation of the project and a plan to involve the broader public.
- (New) If you are a past recipient of a Community Placemaking grant and your project was exclusively an event (spanning a single or multiple days), you may not reapply the year following your award.

FUNDING AVAILABLE

Up to $190,000 is available for the 2020 cycle, in grants ranging from $5,000 to $25,000. No matching funds are required.

MINIMUM GRANT REQUIREMENTS

- Projects must take place within the Urban Growth Boundary (oregonmetro.gov/urban-growth-boundary).
- Projects should be clearly achievable given proposed resources and personnel.
- Projects should aim to be complete by early Fall 2021.
- Projects proposed in public spaces must have a clear plan to gain support and appropriate permits from the local jurisdiction.
- Teams implementing the project will be responsible for carrying insurance coverage and for the proper use, accounting and reporting of grant funds. Metro reports all grant distributions to the IRS.

COMMUNITY PLACEMAKING OBJECTIVES

The Community Placemaking program has four objectives, each of which are followed by characteristics that make for a strong application.

Placemaking: People's connections to each other and to places they care about are strengthened.

Project characteristics

- Addresses a community challenge or opportunity
- Prompts people to interact with each other
- Uses art as a tool to bring people together or influence their community
- Helps people feel a stronger connection to the place(s) where the project happens
- Strengthens the things that make a place unique or valued

Equity: People of color and members of historically marginalized communities¹ have power and resources to influence their neighborhoods and communities.

Project characteristics

- Directly benefits people of color or members of other historically marginalized communities
- Led by or actively supported by communities of color or other historically marginalized communities
- Strengthens cultural and community assets
- Provides opportunities for expression of culture

Partnerships: People's efforts are maximized because they work in partnership with each other and with Metro.

Project characteristics

- Involves partnerships that bring different or new groups together
- Encourages collaboration among community partners
- Engages the public in the planning for and participating in the project's implementation
- Enhances regional efforts where Metro is actively engaged

Leadership: People participate in projects and decisions that affect them.

Project characteristics

- Gives opportunities to emerging leaders
- Builds individual and organizational capacity for civic engagement

¹ Historically marginalized - "Historically marginalized" refers to groups who have been denied access and/or suffered past institutional discrimination in the U.S. and, according to the Census and other federal measuring tools, includes African Americans, Asian Americans, Hispanics or Chicanos/Latinos and Native Americans. In June 2016, Metro elevated racial equity as a core goal for the agency. Metro focuses on racial equity with the goal of improving life and economic outcomes for all groups, and ensuring that race is no longer the most significant factor in predicting life outcomes. Due to a long history of exclusionary and discriminatory policies, communities of color experience the most widespread barriers to improving social well-being. These barriers prevent communities from thriving and continue to cause our communities of color to experience the worst economic and social outcomes of any demographic group. The barriers that are the most significant for people of color are typically also the most significant for other marginalized groups. These groups may include but are not limited to other ethnicities, adult learners, veterans, people with disabilities, lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender individuals, different religious groups and different economic backgrounds.

APPLICATION REVIEW PROCESS AND TIMELINE

A community-based group reviews the applications and makes a funding recommendation to Metro. This group has expertise in community development, social justice, arts and cultural programming, and urban planning, and they are predominately people of color. The group will use your application as the primary basis for their recommendation. Make sure your proposed project is clear, compelling and sufficiently defined so they can understand how well it meets the Community Placemaking program's objectives. They will evaluate the applications using the following questions.

- How impactful do you think this project will be?
- How strong are the equity and inclusion components of the proposal?
- How feasible is the project to implement?
- How well does it meet the objectives of the Community Placemaking program?

The group will select projects to recommend to Metro's Chief Operating Officer and Metro Council for funding. By late April 2020, Metro will announce grant awards. If you are not selected for a grant, staff is happy to provide suggestions for strengthening a future application.

RESTRICTIONS ON USE OF FUNDS

Community Placemaking grant funds may not be used for any of the following purposes:

- Activities or events held outside the Urban Growth Boundary
- Materials or costs not tied to the proposed project
- Costs that may be incurred in preparing this grant application
- General organizational support, annual appeals or fund drives
- Direct grants or loans that primarily benefit specific individuals or businesses
- Any attempt to: directly influence legislation or public policy; participate or intervene in any political campaign on behalf of or in opposition to any candidate for public office; induce or encourage violations of law or public policy or improper private benefit to occur
- Activities or events held on property whose owner discriminates against individuals or groups because of race, color creed, national origin, sex, age or disability, in violation of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act, as amended; 42 U.S.C. Section 2000d; Section 303 of the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, as amended; 42 U.S.C. Section 6102; Section 202 of the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990; 42 U.S.C. Section 12132.

ROLE OF A FISCAL SPONSOR

Community groups or individuals without nonprofit status must partner with a fiscal sponsor, such as a state certified, federally approved 501(c) nonprofit or a public agency. A fiscal sponsor plays an important role in a Community Placemaking project, and should expect to participate in the following ways.

- Carefully review and sign the legal agreement
- Provide insurance coverage for the duration of the grant project
- Receive payments from Metro and distribute funds appropriately

- Submit progress reports to Metro
- Participate in grantee gatherings and evaluation activities

CONTRACTING AND AGREEMENTS

Grantees and fiscal sponsors (if applicable) will enter into a contractual agreement with Metro that specifies legal and contractual obligations, including insurance requirements described below. Once the contract is signed by all parties and processed by Metro, funds become available. Money spent before this point is not eligible for reimbursement.

INSURANCE COVERAGE

Metro requires that grantees provide proof of insurance coverage for the duration of their Community Placemaking projects. If you or your fiscal sponsor do not have insurance, grant money can be used to purchase coverage and should be included in your application's proposed budget.

Information about contracting, insurance coverage and grant money distribution can be found in What to expect if you're awarded a Community Placemaking grant at www.oregonmetro.gov/placemaking

GRANTEE GATHERINGS

Grantees and their teams should expect to participate in two gatherings (early and later in the grant cycle) where current and past grantees will share successes, lessons learned and opportunities to support and participate in each other's activities.

EVALUATING YOUR EFFORTS

Metro staff will work with grantees to measure the impact of your project. This will involve articulating goals for your project and ways to assess if the project met your goals. It is helpful for applicants to have a general idea of how the community or place will be different as a result of the grant-funded activities. At the close of the project, grantees will submit a brief retrospective to Metro.
