

Metro Supportive Housing Services program Tax Information Frequently Asked Questions – Personal Income Tax

In May 2020 voters in greater Portland approved a measure to raise money for supportive housing services for people experiencing homelessness or at risk of experiencing homelessness. The program is funded by a 1% tax on all taxable income of more than $125,000 for individuals and $200,000 for couples filing jointly, and a 1% tax on profits from businesses with gross receipts of more than $5 million.

This is the first time Metro has implemented personal and business income taxes, and it is the first local personal net income tax in the region since Multnomah County's personal income tax ended in 2006. There are details to work out and questions to be answered as a collection process is developed for these taxes. These FAQs will be updated regularly throughout the implementation process as answers are known.

What income is subject to this tax?

Personal Income – Taxable income over $125,000 for individuals and $200,000 for couples filing jointly, for people living within Metro's jurisdiction, as well as nonresidents who receive income sourced within the Metro jurisdiction. Generally, Oregon taxable income from the individual's Oregon income tax return will be the starting point to calculate Metro Taxable Income.

When does the tax start, and when is it due?

The taxes are effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2021. The first income tax returns will generally be due on April 15, 2022, which is the due date of the federal and Oregon returns for the 2021 tax year.

Payroll withholding is currently being tested and implemented, and is expected to be available to most employees by spring or summer 2021. Beginning January 1, 2022, payroll withholding will be required for employees earning $200,000 or more annually.

Estimated tax payments are expected to be available in mid-2021. For tax year 2021 there will be no penalties or interest if payroll withholding or estimated tax payments are not made.

Will my employer automatically withhold this tax from my paycheck?

Withholding by employers is voluntary for 2021. As payroll systems are enabled, employers must offer to withhold the tax. If you are interested in having the tax withheld, please ask your employer when withholding will be available. Withholding will be mandatory beginning in 2022 for employees earning more than $200,000 per year.

If I have a tax situation that doesn't just include my salary from an employer, how do I opt in or opt out of automatic withholding?

Everyone's tax situation is different. If you have other income or deductions and would like to adjust your withholding or opt in or out of withholding, Metro is preparing a form for you to communicate that to your employer. The form will be available this spring.

What if my filing status is not single or married filing jointly?

Taxfilers using Oregon filing statuses married filing jointly, head of household and qualifying widow(er) should file a joint Metro return, which exempts the first $200,000 of taxable income. Taxfilers using Oregon filing statuses single and married filing separately should file a single Metro return, which exempts the first $125,000 of taxable income.

If I don't live within the Metro jurisdiction, but some of my income is earned within the jurisdiction, how much of my income is taxable?

For nonresidents, only income earned within the Metro jurisdiction is subject to the Metro personal income tax.

Example: A taxfiler lives in Salem, outside of the Metro jurisdiction, and reports $250,000 in taxable income, of which $200,000 is derived from within the Metro jurisdiction. Only the $200,000 sourced from the Metro jurisdiction is subject to tax. If the taxfiler files a single Metro return the first $125,000 is exempt, and the taxfiler will owe $750 in tax ($$75,000 * 1\%$). If the taxfiler files a joint Metro return the first $200,000 is exempt, and the taxfiler will not owe any tax.

How do I know if I am inside Metro jurisdiction?

Metro's jurisdiction includes the 24 cities and unincorporated portions of Multnomah, Clackamas, and Washington counties that lie within the Portland metropolitan area, stretching from Forest Grove to Troutdale and south to Wilsonville. Cities outside of Metro's jurisdiction include North Plains, Banks, Gaston, Canby, Estacada and Sandy. Sauvie Island is also outside Metro's jurisdiction, as is Corbett.

To determine whether your residence, workplace, and/or earned business income is within Metro's jurisdiction, enter the property address into the Find your councilor tool. If the results provide you with a Metro Councilor, then the property is within Metro's jurisdiction and may be subject to the personal or business income tax.

What if I only live within the Metro jurisdiction part-time?

If someone moves in or out of the Metro jurisdiction, their taxable income includes all income earned while a resident of the District, plus all Metro sourced income while they were a nonresident. If the move is temporary and they maintain a residence within the Metro jurisdiction, while also living out of state, they will be subject to the full tax for the whole year.

Example 1: Shane maintains a home in the Metro jurisdiction and works in the Metro jurisdiction. Shane purchased a summer home in Palm Springs, California and spends about three months in that state. Shane continued to spend the other nine months in the Metro jurisdiction. While in California, Shane maintained the home and business connections in the Metro jurisdiction. Shane is domiciled in the Metro jurisdiction and is taxed as a resident of the Metro jurisdiction because Shane has not demonstrated intent to abandon the Metro home nor shown an intent to establish permanent residency in California.

Example 2: Bennett lived in the Metro jurisdiction from January 1 – June 30, 2021, and worked for a company in Washington. On July 1, 2021 Bennett permanently left the Metro jurisdiction and moved to Washington. Bennett must file a Metro part-year resident return for 2021, and Metro taxable income would include earnings from January 1 – June 30, 2021 while a resident of the District.

In the example above, if Bennett instead worked for a company in the Metro jurisdiction, and continued to commute after the move and work in the Metro jurisdiction, then all earnings from that employment would be included in Metro taxable income.

What happens if the Metro jurisdiction changes?

The tax will be applied to areas within the new jurisdiction or removed from areas that are no longer within the Metro jurisdiction.

How will the taxes be collected?

The City of Portland Revenue Division will administer and collect the taxes.

Will I be required to file a separate tax return?

Yes. The tax return will be filed with the City of Portland.

Why will the City of Portland collect the taxes?

The City currently administers business taxes for Portland and Multnomah County, as well as other taxes. The City also has experience administering the Multnomah County personal income tax ("ITAX", 2003-2005). The City has the experience, the technical capability and a scalable team to allow for collection of these taxes for Metro.

What if my business entity passes through income to me as an individual? Will I be taxed twice?

A taxfiler is allowed a deduction for pass through income subject to Metro business income tax. Pass-through income comes from a business whose net income is taxed on the owners' or partners' personal tax returns. This includes, but is not limited to, entities taxed as partnerships and S corporations.

If a pass through entity is not subject to Metro business income tax the taxfiler is not allowed a deduction. For example, an S corporation with less than $5 million in gross receipts is exempt from the Metro business income tax, and pass through income reported to the owner would be subject to the Metro personal income tax.

I receive Oregon PERS (Public Employees Retirement System) and FERS (Federal Employees Retirement System) income. Am I subject to the tax?

Under Oregon law, Oregon PERS and FERS income is not subject to local income taxes.

I am retired and receive retirement income, am I subject to the tax?

Yes, retirement income, other than Oregon PERS and FERS, is subject to the tax if annual amounts meet the tax threshold.

If I end up overpaying, how will it be refunded?

Similar to Oregon and federal returns, overpayments will be refunded or applied to the next year's tax.
