Program Overview

The Solid Waste Community Enhancement Program provides grants to improve economic opportunities, neighborhood livability, public safety, and more in areas near the region's garbage transfer and reload facilities. The purpose of the program is to enhance the area around eligible solid waste facilities in the Metro region. The program was established by Metro Council in 1986. Since then, Metro has collected and re-invested millions of dollars in communities across the greater Portland area. More information on the program is available on Metro's website, www.oregonmetro.gov/tools-partners/grants-and-resources/community-enhancement-grants.

Community Enhancement Fee

Metro's solid waste authority, including the authority to collect an enhancement fee to establish and implement a solid waste community enhancement program, is established under the Oregon Constitution, Oregon Revised Statutes Chapters 268 and 459, and the Metro Charter. The program is guided by Metro Code Chapter 5.06, Solid Waste Community Enhancement Program.

Solid waste facilities in the Metro region that operate as disposal sites, transfer stations, reload facilities, food waste compost facilities, and energy recovery facilities collect an enhancement fee on each ton of putrescible solid waste delivered to the facility. Yard debris reload or composting facilities are not subject to this requirement unless the facility also accepts food waste with yard debris.

The program originally included one closed landfill (St. Johns landfill in North Portland) and three transfer facilities: Metro Central (NW Portland), Metro South (Oregon City), and Forest Grove transfer station. At inception, each facility subject to the fee collected an enhancement fee of $.50 per ton. In 2014, Metro Council expanded the program to increase the fee to $1.00 per ton and apply the fee to all other solid waste facilities established since the community enhancement program was first created.

A system map of solid waste facilities in the Metro region, including those that participate in the Community Enhancement Program, can be found here: <https://www.oregonmetro.gov/solid-waste-facilities-map>

Administration

The program is administered by Metro directly, through an intergovernmental agreement (IGA) with the city or county government where the facility is located or through a contract with a non-profit organization. Participating facilities remit enhancement fees to Metro on a monthly basis, which in turn, remits payment to local governments on a quarterly basis.

A Community Enhancement Program Advisory Committee (Committee) is responsible for implementation of each of the local programs. Each committee establishes the enhancement area boundary, creates committee bylaws, develops a process for soliciting and selecting projects, and reviews program budgets. The Metro Councilor for the district where the facility is located has the option to serve on the community enhancement committee as co-chair, voting member, or non-voting member of the committee. Each committee submits a report of accounts and expenses to Metro for the previous fiscal year by October 1 of each calendar year for tracking purposes.

Participating Facilities and Jurisdictions

In FY 20-21 seven cities and eight facilities participated in the program: Forest Grove, Oregon City, Wilsonville, Sherwood, Troutdale, Gresham and Portland – Metro Central Transfer Station and Suttle Road Recovery.

Local jurisdiction	Solid Waste Facility Eligible for Enhancement Fees	Year Program Established	Metro District and Councilor	Councilor Role on Community Enhancement Committee

Eligibility and Program Goals

To be considered for Community Enhancement Program funding, projects must meet the following eligibility criteria and at least one of the goals listed below.

Eligibility Criteria

1. The project must be located in the solid waste community enhancement area boundary, as specified by the solid waste community enhancement committee, or the project must benefit individuals or programs located inside the solid waste community enhancement area boundary.
2. The project applicant must be:
 - a. A non-profit organization, including but not limited to a neighborhood association or charitable organization with 501(c)(3) status under the Internal Revenue Service; or
 - b. A local government, local government advisory committee, department, or special district, provided that it includes documented support from the local government executive officer.
3. The project must not be used to replace any other readily available source of federal, state, local or regional funds.
4. The project must not promote or inhibit religion.
5. The project must not discriminate based on race, ethnicity, age, gender, or sexual orientation.
6. If the project is located on private land, the project application must establish a clear public benefit and must document landowner permission.

Program Goals

1. Improve the appearance or environmental quality of the community.
2. Result in rehabilitation or upgrade of real or personal property owned or operated by a nonprofit organization having 501(c)(3) or other tax-exempt status under the Internal Revenue Code.
3. Result in the preservation or enhancement of wildlife, riparian zones, wetlands, forestlands and marine areas, and/or improve the public awareness and the opportunities to enjoy them.
4. Reduce the amount or toxicity of waste.
5. Increase reuse and recycling opportunities.
6. Result in improvement to, or an increase in, recreational areas and programs. Result in improvement in safety.
7. Benefit youth, seniors, low-income persons or underserved populations.

Grant Program Costs and Expenses

Program administrative costs

Local jurisdictions may spend up to 20 percent (not to exceed $50,000) of solid waste community enhancement funds on administrative costs including staff time and materials to administer the grant program.

Awards to nonprofit and local government projects

Participating jurisdictions track the amount of Community Enhancement Program funding that goes to nonprofit organizations and local government projects. As a guideline, the amount of grant funding awarded to a local government, local government advisory committee, department or special district is recommended not to exceed 15 percent of the available funds in each grant cycle, or more as otherwise provided in an intergovernmental agreement with Metro and a host local government. (Solid Waste Administrative procedure 5.06 section 6.1.2.4.)

Tracking awards to culturally-specific community based organizations (CBO's)

Participating jurisdictions also tracked the amount of funding awarded to culturally-specific community based organizations. The purpose of tracking grants to these organizations is to understand how the Solid Waste Community Enhancement Program supports Metro's Strategic Plan to Advance Racial Equity, Diversity and Inclusion, adopted by Metro Council in 2016.

Culturally-specific organizations¹ include all of the following characteristics:

- The majority of members and/or clients are from a particular (or multiple) community (or communities) of color, such as: African, African American, Asian, Latino, Native American, Pacific Islander, and Slavic;
- Organizational environment is culturally focused and the community being served recognizes it as a culturally-specific organization;
- Majority of staff must be from the community being served, and the leadership (defined to collectively include Board members and management positions) must be majority from the community served;
- Organization has a track record of successful community engagement and involvement with the community being served;
- The community being served recognizes the organization as advancing the best interests of the community and engaging in policy advocacy on behalf of the community being served.
